Detailed Study Plan

Why Study at Whitecliffe University of Applied Sciences?

Whitecliffe offers a state-recognized, globally accredited education in the heart of Europe. With an international campus, English-taught programs, and strong industry connections, students gain practical experience in a personalized learning environment.

Small classes, innovative teaching, and strong career outcomes prepare graduates for successful global careers.

Deepening Expertise, Expanding Perspective

The MA Interior Architecture/Interior Design at Whitecliffe builds on BA-level skills, developing advanced technical expertise and a deep understanding of interiors within cultural, social, and spatial contexts. Graduates are prepared for professional practice across diverse local and global settings, and equipped with specialized knowledge and critical skills.

Teaching Methods

At Whitecliffe University of Applied Sciences, learning is student-centered and hands-on, with project-based work that fosters professional growth and teamwork. MA students develop independence as design professionals under guidance from internationally experienced faculty. Taught in English, the program offers a global academic experience through a diverse student body, international faculty, and the school's worldwide network.

Professional Practice

Graduates of the MA Interior Architecture/Interior Design program are prepared for careers in design offices, architecture firms, agencies, cultural institutions, or independent practice. Combining practical and theoretical knowledge, they can navigate evolving professional challenges with creativity and responsibility.

In Germany, qualified graduates may register with the Chamber of Architects to use the professional title "Interior Architect."
